

DEMEINE ESTATES

ECO-INITIATIVES

Exceptional wine requires a deep understanding of the earth, and our industry's role in the ecosystem. Demeine Estates values sustainable practices in all our winery partners, ensuring that each one demonstrates quantifiable and tangible commitments to the environment. In Napa Valley, Lawrence Wine Estates is a leader in organic and biodynamic farming practices and certifications, choosing farming methods that ensure the longevity of the winemaking region in addition to the quality of the wine. Across our portfolio, our partners focus on solar and renewable energy, carbon neutrality, water reclamation and recycling, and are steadfast in our resolve to build a more enduring wine industry.

- The Lawrence Family is the fifth largest landowner in Napa
- With 560+ acres of organic (soon to be biodynamic) vines, we are the largest organic vineyard owner in Napa
- Jack Neal & Son has been at the forefront of the organic movement, and exclusively farms all owned vineyards
- Jack Neal & Son has been certified organic since 1984, and now manages the most CCOF Certified acres in Napa Valley
- We use trellis systems designed to maximize water use efficiency while maintaining fruit quality necessary to create the iconic wines in our portfolio
- Our estates practice livestock grazing in the vineyards for weed control, establish bluebird boxes to lower insect pest populations, and provide habitats for raptors to reduce rodent and gopher damage to vines
