2018 CONTADINA CABERNET SAUVIGNON

NAPA VALLEY, CALIFORNIA

“The 2018 Cabernet Sauvignon is a powerful, old-school wine. Dark cherry, plum, scorched earth, game, licorice and tar give the 2018 plenty of complexity. Big, potent tannins lend quite a bit of muscle, but there is more than enough fruit and overall balance to support many years in the cellar. Dark red fruit, mint spice and licorice linger. This is very nicely done.”

– ANTONIO GALLONI, OCTOBER 2021

A Cabernet Sauvignon named for the Italian word for female farmer, Contadina. This is a way of paying tribute to the original Swiss-Italian farming families that first planted the slopes on Howell Mountain to grapevines in the 1870s. Often led by their strong matriarchs, these families laid the foundation for Burgess. Their heritage, tradition, and legacy are carried forward today by our Winemaker Meghan Zobeck.
